Interviewing for a Job When You Have a Disability or Medical Condition

How, When & Why to Talk About It

What do I have to tell an employer about my medical condition or disability?

Should I tell them about my medical condition during the interview or can I wait until after I'm hired?

What if I need to do my job differently than co-workers? Can they fire me because of my disability? What are my rights?

- Learn the only reason you have to tell an employer about your disability or medical condition.
- Find out the best way to ask for an accommodation at work.
- Learn your rights under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).
- Learn about disability and employment resources that can help you.

Getting Prepared in Case of an Emergency

Disability Network Southwest Michigan received a grant from ADA Michigan to create a website to help people with disabilities get ready for natural disasters and other emergency situations.

What are your plans if the power goes out in the winter?

What should you take with you if you are told to leave your home because of a flood?

This website will have information available in different ways to help you get answers to those questions, including :

- Picture based checklists
- Audio files
- Captioned videos
- Standard text

To learn more, visit www.dnswm.org and click on the "Emergency Preparedness" button on the left menu.
